Impromptu speeches were made by the following gentlemen: R. R. Gwath-ney, H. K. Ellyson, William H. Wiltiams, B. F. Johnson, C. J. Woodson, and the president of the Association. A special prayer by Mr. H. K. Ellyson was offered that God would bless the Sunday-school work in all of the churches, and that during this year many souls shall be saved. After the collection the benediction was pronounced by Rev. C. P. Scott. The next meeting will take place at the Clay-Street church the Second Sunday in February.

Irish Aristocracy. Last night the Barry and Fay Comness the presentation of the excellent comedy, "Irish Aristocracy." The house laughed and enjoyed the fun to the fullest, the many mirth-prooking sayings and actions being so conly presented as to make it impossicouly presented as to make it impossi-ble to resist them. The drunken scene was extremely ludicrous, and was the Mulcahy, were the principal characters, and good ones they were, too. The support was all that was necessary.

The play will be repeated to-night, and a full house will be present.

work, in its unfinished condition it is liable to very great damage.

Complaints are very common of the elect and delay of all works by the you Church Hill. I see that good brick houses are already going up on that part of the avenue between Broad and Grace streets. Now, the sooner the work is completed, the sooner will houses along the line of the improve-ment be built, and the sooner will the city treasury commence to receive revenue from this new source of taxable The taxpayers of Jefferson account the representative who hinders or neglects this important duty. I never favored the avenue, but I cannot shut the city the large amount already ex-pended by promptly completing and making permanent the work done. One dollar may be worth to the work now more than ten twelve months hence. I hope it may be the pleasure of the City Council to push this matter to a speedy completion, and this, I believe, is the wish and judgment of every business-man and property-holder in both Jeffer-son and Marshall Wards, but more espe-cially the latter. cially the latter.

The offer was declined by General Grant in the name of his wife, except in so far as it applied to his swords, medals, &c. Mr. Vanderbilt then pressed General Grant to allow him to sell the property and create with the money realized a trust, "with proper previsions for the income to be paid to Mrs. Grant during her life, and giving the power to her to make such disposition of the principal by her will as she may elect." This last generous proposition was accepted by General Grant, (with the consent of his wife, it seems.) but subsequently Mrs. Grant wrote to Mr. Vanderbilt as follows:

The Blair Bill. We hope Congress will at the earliest possible day pass the Biair educational bill, as this bill promises to give the State of Virginia an average of near a million dollars annually for seven years, an amount equal to a tax of thirty cents on the hundred dollars of ail the real estate in the Commonwealth. While we condemn the policy that has wrung from the hard-working people of the South the vast amount of money that is locked up in the National Treasury, now that it has been done, we favor its officialo, - Estillville Banner.

We are highly pleased at the efforts now being made by the Richmond Dispatch and other Democratic journals of the State to induce their party friends in the House of Representatives to pass the Blair bill during the present session of Congress, and we sincerely hope their efforts will be successful .- Mar tinsville Herald

There is no danger in the bill, nothing of usurpation by the Federal Government or of "centralization." Public sentiment was never healthier as regards such questions than now, and nobody but a dyspeptic political crank or a case-hardened "strict constructionist" can find any objection to it. Let the bill pass and speedily, or Virginia will want to know the reason why.—Roanoke

A DOWN TOWN MERCHANT having passed several sleepless nights. disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of hechild, as she was strongly in favor of hemocopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep.
Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and, while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the SOOTHING SYRUP to the baby and said nothing.
That night all hands slept well, and the litthe fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the SYRUP, and suffering, crying babies, and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the SYRUP never yet failed to relieve the haby and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Soid by all druggists; 25 cents a BOOK AND JOB WORK NEATLY ING-BOUSE,

on an interview with Grainer, of the District of Col Fashington Republican.)

Grand-Master Myron M. Parker said:
"When I returned from the Indian erritory last month, and learned that the joint commission had decided no permit any official participation dedication ceremonies, which wou confined to the oration in the Hou of Representatives, thus shutting out our order, and the army and navy as well, I had an interview with Senator Sherman, the president of the commission, who told me that as the monument has been completed by appropriations made by Congress, it assumed a strictly national character, and from this reason the commission had decided that the cere-mony should be wholy under the di-rection of the National Government, and the participation of Masonic or other bodies would make it of a loca character. He suggested to me, how-ever, that the Masons had been assigned the post of honor in the parade, follow-ing President Arthur and escerted by the military.

"I told him that it was not the practice of Masonry to help swell processions and street-parades, and even on this occasion they cannot be induced to depart from their ancient customs. But had we been invited to perform an official duty—General Washington having been one of the most eminent Masons of his time, and master of the Alexandria lodge when lodges were few in this country—we should have taken pleadria lodge when lodges were few in this country—we should have taken pleasure in making our part of the ceremonies creditable, and to this end we had arranged to invite every grand and subordinate lodge to assist us. The Grand Lodge here should perform the dedicatory ceremony, as that body laid the corner-stone in 1849, when the late Colonel Parker says that he officially informed the Grand Lodge of the District of these circumstances, and his action in refusing to join in the ceremonies in such a manner was heartily approved. He has also communicated, unofficially, with the Grand Lodge of Virginia, and also with a lodge in New York city that proposed to come here [and the Grand Master of Masons in Virginia approved].

The Republican adds: Judge Sener and another gentleman of the lodge at Fredericksburg, Va., in which Wash-ington was made a Mason, were here a few days ago as a committee endeavoring to have their lodge invited by the joint commission to take part in the ex-ercises, the lodge claiming that it is rescoration to the people, even if it has to come through the hands of Federal better entitled to recognition than the Alexandria lodge, of which Washington was a member.
